

Meet Your Obstetrician and Gynecologist

Terence Young, MD, FACOG

My only dream in life was to become a physician. I have always had the desire to help others; so I strive to best serve my patients by listening to them and truly understanding their needs and concerns. I want my patients to feel that they are an individual and not a number in a system.

What sets Me Apart from Other Medical Providers

"I truly love what I do and focus on the quality of providing obstetrical and gynecologic care, not the quantity of patients."
