

Meet Your Obstetrician and Gynecologist

Juliana Garr, MD

When patients are under my care, I want them to feel special, safe, supported, comfortable, and in good hands. I want them to have the same care I would require for myself, my mother or my sister. I want my patients to leave my care feeling that their issues and concerns were fully addressed. I make every effort to stay current on the latest medical recommendations and evidence-based practices so I can provide the best up-to-date care for my patients.

Why I chose Health Care

"I first knew I wanted to become a physician after I witnessed my aunt with Sickle Cell disease go through a terrifying and painful pregnancy. Although I felt helpless at the time, I knew I wanted to be involved in women's healthcare someday. As time went on, I also noticed healthcare disparities adversely affecting lots of women. This realization intensified my passion for the overall health and wellbeing of women, and fueled my desire to become an OB/GYN."
